Charles Dickens' Valet.

Jackson Jordan, for some time the valet of Charles Dickens, ceiebrated his 85th birthday on Jan. 8. Dickens picked him up in New Orleans, and he was in the service of the author when the "American Notes" were written, mater accompanying him home to England. At present he is steward of the steamship Coptle, running between San the people combinin of having to bear such the propit they are told, Trap public trap the pront they are told.
